REAL AMERICAN
"SQUEEZER" PLAYING CARDS.

Best quality, of the strongest material, and being highly finished on both sides, they slip readily when handled.

An important feature is that by reference to the "INDICATORS" in the corners all chance of making a mistake in the hand is avoided, as such "Indicators" show the Suit and Size. This allows of the hand being compressed into a very small space, and hence the name "SQUEEZERS." The "Indicators" are in addition to the ordinary pips made to run both ways.

"OZO" contains no Alcohol, only the Salts of Life combined with Iron. "OZO" in itself is the most delicious of Effervescing Beverages.

"OZO" is the best of Tonics, it wards off Fever, Liver and Dysentery, the Indian trio of ills.

"OZO" heightens Brain-power, without any after depression, its effects being permanent.

"OZO" is the "Pick me up" of the day, sustaining Muscular power without unduly exciting it.

"OZO" forms a "Foaming Cup" in which all—young and old—may participate with lasting pleasure.

"OZO" is, therefore, a Drink of great value, and is recommended as such by the Medical Profession.

PHYSICIANS' PRESCRIPTIONS.

WE beg to call the attention of Members of the Medical Profession and others to our increased facilities for Dispensing Physicians' Prescriptions, and we guarantee that no pains are spared to provide Patients with Medicines prepared in exact accordance with the intentions of the Prescriber.

The influence of the Climate upon Drugs is so great that considerable care is necessary in preserving a proper standard of excellence, and to this end we adopt a system calculated to remove the possibility of any change in the medicinal value of the materials we employ. The Drugs and Chemicals are regularly supplied to us from the most reliable sources, and each sample is submitted to careful examination before being admitted into stock, and re-examined from time to time for the purpose of rejection should any sign of deterioration appear.

To ensure the utmost accuracy in compounding, the most stringent precautions are adopted, and every article is proved by the experienced European Chemist, whose duty it is to exercise direct supervision over this branch of the business.

A copy is kept of every prescription dispensed at our establishment, so that a patient requiring a repetito in of a medicine needs merely to quote the number.

Up-country constituents who favour us with orders for medicines can have them carefully packed and forwarded with despatch to any part of the country by the most suitable mode of conveyance.

THOMSON AND TAYLOR,

IVORY TURNING.

IMPORTANT TO CLUBS, MESSES, AND BILLIARD PLAYERS IN GENERAL.

MESSRS. JOHN ROBERTS and Co., having found by many years experience that, as a rule, IVORY BILLIARD BALLS imported from Europe will not stand the INDIAN CLIMATE, they have brought out from England an EXPERIENCED IVORY TURNER, and all IVORY BALLS supplied by them in future are guaranteed to be perfectly TRUE to WEIGHT and SIZE.

Messrs. JOHN ROBERTS and Co. have made arrangements to get their supply of Ivory direct from ZANZIBAR, and only the very BEST SEASONED AFRICAN IVORY will be used in their Manufactury.

As there are THOUSANDS of OLD IVORY BALLS in India, which are considered USELESS, but may be easily ADJUSTED and MADE PLAYABLE again, Messrs. J. R. & Co. undertake to adjust and recolour OLD BILLIARD POOL and PYRAMID BALLS at the shortest notice.

A well assorted stock of all Billiard Materials always on hand.

COMMERCIAL INTELLIGENCE

SATURDAY EVENING, OCTOBER 15.

THE absence of full telegraphic communication with home has added to-day to the usual Saturday quietness, and in many of the markets we have not heard of a single transaction of any importance.

The New York Exchange has improved to $4·78¾ per £, but securities are unchanged all round, except a decline of ¼ in Four-and-a-half per cent. Rupee Paper.

In the General Produce markets Ceylon Cocoanut-oil is 10s. per ton higher. Coffee, Seeds, and Wheat unaltered. Yellow-metal Braziers ½d. per lb. lower.

Reuter says nothing regarding the Manchester Piece-goods market, but private advices report it quiet at previous prices.

Cotton in Liverpool, according to Reuter, continues in good demand at former values, the sales yesterday being 12,000, and to-day 10,000, bales. October-November delivery Mid-Uplands comes 1-32d. lower, whilst March-April is 1-32d. higher. In New York yesterday Mid-Uplands, January shipment, was quoted 9, and to-day 5, points lower, closing at 11·71 cents. per lb. The receipts at the ports continue very moderate, being now 121,000 bales behind last season. The following are the figures to date :—

	1881.	1880.	1879.
Week's Receipts	186,000	238,000	182,000
„ Exports to U. K.	51,000	67,000	77,000
„ „ to Continent	41,000	23,000	30,000
Total Receipts since 1st Sept.	777,000	898,400	784,100
„ Exports to U. K. „	286,700	341,600	271,000
„ „ to Continent „	88,100	111,700	65,600
„ Stock in the Ports	503,000	450,000	366,000

Reuter's usual weekly figures from Liverpool are not yet to hand, so we are unable to give our comparison of the statistical position.

EXCHANGE.—Bar Silver being again 1-16d. lower in London at 52d. per oz., the market to-day has been very quiet with a partial decline of 1-32d. per rupee, and several of the brokers are unable to report a single transaction. We quote :—

Bank Bills on demand	1s. 7 15-16d.	per rupee.
Do. telegraphic	1s. 7¾d.	„
Do. 3 months' sight	1s. 8 3-32d.	„
Credits, 2 „ „	1s. 8 7-32d.	„
Documents, 3 „ „	1s. 8¼d.	„
Francs 3 „ „	2·15	„

On Calcutta we still quote par for demand, 1 per cent. discount for 60 days' sight.

GOVERNMENT PAPER is still firm, and we now quote Fours at Rs. 100 9-16, Fours-and-a-half Rs. 109½. Small pieces continue in request at ¼ to ½ per cent. above these quotations.

SHARES rule very quiet, and in Spinning and Weaving Companies values are generally Rs. 5 to Rs. 10 lower, and in the case of Dhurumseys the decline is Rs. 20. Bombay Saw Mills are Rs. 50 lower Treacher and Company, Limited, are Rs. 15 higher.

COTTON has been a shade quieter, but prices are unchanged all round, and we have not heard of any business.

SEEDS are quiet at previous prices, as also WHEAT. The freight on this latter article from Delhi by the Rajputana State Railway has been advanced 3 annas per maund, or 25 per cent., to come in force from 25th instant. The effect of this will be to send the whole of the supplies from Delhi to Calcutta, thus diverting, it is estimated, something like 10,000 tons from this market. The advance, it is said, is only to be temporary, but if so, it seems difficult to conceive why it should have been announced, as the effect will only be to confuse trade and decrease the returns of the railway.

FREIGHTS have been quiet but steady. There is no change in prices, but owing to the arrival of two more steamers there is less competition for October loading.

PIECE-GOODS are almost at a standstill.

COALS are firm at unchanged prices.

The Bombay Gazette.
MONDAY, OCTOBER 17, 1881.

As we anticipated, the Government has followed up the arrest of Mr. Parnell by arresting Mr. John Dillon, who, it appears, was in Ireland when he was nominated to fill Mr. Parnell's post as leader. The authorities are acting with extraordinary vigour, having arrested Mr. Sexton, M. P., Mr. Quinn, Secretary to the Land League, and two newspaper editors, and issued warrants for the arrest of Mr. Healy, M. P. for Wexford, and Mr. A. O'Connor, M. P. for Queen's County. The Gazette announces that Boycotting and coercing persons into joining the Land League will henceforth be treated as criminal offences. For the moment, at all events, these strong measures appear to have intensified the prevailing agitation instead of putting an end to it. Already proposals to pay no rents until Mr. Parnell is released have been submitted at numerous indignation meetings. Reuter does not inform us how these proposals have been received, but it is much to be feared that they have not been rejected. A strike against rent was spoken of last June, as the settled policy to be pursued in case the Government then carried out the plan of suppressing the Land League which it was generally supposed at that time to have in contemplation. The alarm felt by the landlord class at the prospect of widespread ruin which such a strike, if at all general, was calculated to produce, caused the Government to defer taking decisive action and try the effect of simply arresting the more turbulent and irreconcileable of the Land League organisers, instead of suppressing the Land League as a body. It remains to be seen whether the measures now taken will put an end to the agitation, or render it more virulent and unmanageable than before. The excitement is said to be increasing in intensity every hour. If that be so, the cry of "no rent" will very probably be generally taken up, and the prospects for the coming winter will be very gloomy indeed. Now that the Government has struck at the Land League agitation with the weapons which proved efficacious in dealing with the Fenians some years since, there is nothing for it but to carry out the policy of repression with the utmost vigour, and arrest every president, committee-man, and secretary of the nine hundred and odd Land League branches, just as every Fenian centre and headcentre was arrested. It was expected in June last that 5,000 arrests would be necessary; that was the number calculated upon, at all events, by the Land Leaguers, who removed their cashbox and their treasurer to Paris to save so much from the clutches of the enemy. Half measures, it is clear, will be of no avail. The exasperation felt by the Irish in America will react dangerously upon Ireland itself if the whole of the Land League machinery be not broken up before there is time to organise a wearing system of passive resistance which might be indefinitely prolonged. We do not imagine that there will be any armed outbreak in any case, for the means of offering active resistance to the military power at the disposal of the Government do not exist in Ireland.

IN close company with the legal decisions which have of late attracted the attention of mercantile men comes that given by Sir Charles Sargent, on the last day before the vacation, in the Dhurumsey Mill case—a decision which is of great importance to mill agents. The decision referred to, if upheld,—and there is no judge whose decisions are less likely to be overthrown on appeal,—is, in our opinion, the first nail in the coffin of protected mill mismanagement. We understand that opinion to lay down the principle that, whatever may be in the articles of association, the shareholders of a mill can get rid of their agents and appoint others; that the court will not give its support to the literal fulfilment of such a contract against the wishes of the shareholders; and that the remedy left with agents whose tenure of office is secured by articles of association is in damages only. Of course in the present case it is not yet decided whether the shareholders or a sufficient number of them wish to withdraw the agency from the hands of the firm now holding it; that point will be the principal subject of dispute in the suit which was filed immediately after the decision of Sir Charles Sargent was given. Meantime it is established, subject of course to appeal, that the court will not interfere, either by decree for performance or by injunction, to compel a company to retain in their employ as agents any persons who have forfeited the confidence of the directors and shareholders. The agents can be deprived of their agency, and the court can then be appealed to in order to settle the amount of damages for which the company has thus become liable for breach of any contract contained in the articles of association. It only remains, therefore, for the shareholders in any mill to secure their own protection, in case they care to do so. They must of course suffer a certain penalty for having placed themselves in the power of others. If they have made an unfortunate contract they cannot free themselves from it without compensation to the other contracting party. But it is entirely a satisfaction to know that an end can be put to mismanagement of mill property, if the shareholders so desire; and we imagine that it need not be feared that the court would give its sanction to any ruinous damages. Any substantial proof of the neglect of the agents, whether voluntary or otherwise, to care for the interests of the mill, would go far to reduce the amount of damages which the agents might otherwise claim. And there would apparently be no danger of any company being called upon to pay more than it would be well worth their while to give to secure efficient management.

In writing thus we must not be understood as objecting altogether to permanent agencies for our manufacturing industries. We know no better arrangement for efficiency and economy than the placing the management in the hands of a firm or family whose interests are closely identified with that of the mill by holding a large interest in the mill, and having the reputation of the firm or family depending upon its success. The office of a mill agent, if faithfully attended to, is far from being a sinecure, especially in Bombay, where the trifling remuneration given to directors has the effect of throwing all responsibility upon the agents themselves. Even a shrewd agent would only, after many years of personal anxiety and labour, be able to throw upon others a share of the labour and responsibility. The relations with employers require often peculiar tact and good management; the times of tight money and dull markets for goods, which naturally come together often, enforce a personal financial responsibility by which others will be the principal gainers. In times of prosperity things may go smoothly enough, whoever may be at the head; but in hard times—and these are more frequent—the personal standing of their agents has saved many an industry from destruction. But we may go further, and prove from experience that the mills which have paid the largest average dividends to their shareholders are those which have been under the control of permanent agencies, and these, too, very handsomely paid. The management of mill property requires the best of talent, and that can only be secured by the best of remuneration; for it ought to command the best efforts of that talent. There is no

ARRESTS OF LAND LEAGUERS.

LONDON, OCT. 15.

Advices from Ireland state that Messrs. Sexton and Quinn, Secretaries of the Land League, have been arrested, and that other arrests are imminent.

The Dublin Gazette, in an extraordinary edition to-day, announces that Boycotting and coercing to join the Land League will henceforth be treated as criminal offences.

Later advices state that Messrs. O'Kelly and O'Brien, two journalists, have been arrested, and that warrants of arrest are out against Mr. T. M. Healy, member of Parliament for Wexford, and Mr. Arthur O'Connor, member for Queen's county.

FURTHER IMPORTANT ARRESTS.

LONDON, OCT. 16.

Latest advices from Ireland state that Mr. John Dillon and Mr. Heffernan have been re-arrested.

The Mr. O'Brien who was arrested yesterday is the Editor of the United Ireland (late Flag of Ireland), the organ of the Land League.

INDIGNATION MEETINGS.

Numerous indignation meetings are being held throughout Ireland, at which proposals have been submitted to pay no rents until Mr. Parnell is released.

INCREASING EXCITEMENT.

The excitement is growing in intensity every hour.

GREAT STORM IN ENGLAND.

A great storm raged throughout England on Friday night, causing an immense amount of damage and a large number of wrecks. The loss of life has been great. Fifty fishing-boats and two hundred fishermen were lost on the Northumberland coast alone.

Telegraphic communication between London and the north was interrupted for some hours owing to the damage done to the lines.

EXCITEMENT AMONG THE AMERICAN IRISH.

A LOCAL contemporary changed its usual "form" on Saturday last, coming out with a double sheet, "the same size as [half] the London Times." This change was due, the public were informed, to an unprecedented increase of advertisements, which "necessitated a change of some kind." We have no concern with the domestic arrangements of our contemporary. If he chooses to issue his sheet of the same size as Punch, or Judy, it is nothing to us but we may venture to point out that this unprecedented enlargement of the sheet in question enabled him to give his readers exactly two columns less print than our Saturday's issue contained as a matter of course, and without any flourish of trumpets whatever. The "change of some kind," is a mistake and we speak from experience. Our contemporary is content to fill up his space with English block advertisements, which we steadily decline to accept when offered. They are not a sufficiently remunerative class of advertisements to overcome our reluctance to disfigure our paper and reduce it in appearance to the level of the organ of some important English village. The experiment in regard to form which our Parsee Bazaar-street contemporary is now trying was tried and found wanting by the Bombay Gazette so long ago as July, 1865. For that whole month the Gazette was published as a double sheet, "the same size as the London Times." But it was found that advertisers did not like to have their advertisements under hatches in the inside of a double paper which the general reader did not care always to turn inside out. And the reader himself did not want the bother of manipulating his sheet before getting at its contents. The experiment was given up as a failure, and we are not likely to revert to it. "The experiment," wrote Mr. Maclean on the 31st July, 1865, "has caused us much trouble, annoyance, and expense, and given no one any satisfaction. The altered size of the paper has been since the 1st of July the subject of incessant complaints from subscribers; and having given the change a fair trial, we now, in obedience to the general wish, go back to our old form. When a mistake has been made, it seems to us better to acknowledge and set about repairing it, than to make matters worse by obstinately refusing to believe that any blunder can have been committed." Our contemporary will probably discover, in his turn, before the month is out that he has committed a blunder, and "given no one any satisfaction."

THE 2nd Royal Lancaster (2-4th) Regiment, stationed at Colaba, goes to Baroda in December next, to take part in the camp of exercise which is to be held there during the installation.

THE s. s. Swordsman, belonging to the Sultan of Zanzibar, arrived in Bombay harbour yesterday morning with some cases of small-pox on board. Dr. Smith, Health Officer of the Port—to whom, by the way, a liberal Government not only does not pay any salary for the duties of this particular office, but allows him no establishment, and, we have heard, even makes him pay for the telegrams which inform him of the approach of ships in respect of which his services are required—boarded the vessel, and had the patients, three in number, removed to hospital. The passengers, all natives, were allowed to land, in accordance with the Health Officer's instructions. The ship was sent into quarantine, to be thoroughly disinfected and painted or whitewashed before she is allowed to take up a berth among the shipping.

H. M.'s SHIP RANGER, Commander C. P. S. Darwyn, came into harbour yesterday afternoon. Captain C. Pissowin, the former commander, died in the Persan Gulf, and was buried at Kurrachee. The other officers are First Lieut. Coward, Second Lieut. Cowell, and Navigating Lieut. Sugden. The number of the crew is 98. The Ranger has three guns. She came direct to Bombay from Muscat.

With reference to inquiries made as to the tramway extension to Grant-road, we may state that Mr. Kittredge is now in Madras arranging for the purchase of horses, and that upon his success in getting the requisite number of animals depends the *opening of the new branch on the 1st Novem*ber next.

MR. HORMUSJEE DADABHOY has been appointed to act as a judge of the Small Causes Court at Bombay. He has temporarily performed the duties of the office on two or three previous occasions to the satisfaction of Government, as well as of the public. Mr. Warden, Third Judge of the court, having obtained a month's leave, Rao Bahadoor Gunpatrao Bhasker, the Fourth Judge, acts for him; and as the leave expires on the 12th November next, Mr. Hormusjee will act as Fourth Judge for only a week, that is, from the reopening of the court after the vacation on the 7th till the 12th November.

THE hadjis, or Mahomedan pilgrims, who, balked in their attempts to sail from Bombay in time to reach Mecca on the 2nd November, when a grand ceremony is to be performed there, have been left behind here, are putting up with their disappointment with admirable equanimity. The police arrangements for the preservation of the public peace have been so far efficiently carried out. The pilgrims have since Thursday last been living peaceably at Jaffer Sulleiman's mooseferkhana and in boarding houses temporarily established for them in Barbhaya Mohla and Soortee Mohla. It appears that about 300 out of the 979 pilgrims who had arrived in Bombay left for Jeddah by the Clan Alpine at the beginning of last week. The police authorities had granted passports to the remaining 679, who intended to have left by the Empress of India. The China took away about 300 of these, so that about 350 were left behind. Some of these, again, having got back their passage money, have gone back to the places whence they came, while the rest are awaiting their departure on a future day.

TEJPAL OODESEY, the Bhattia who wanted to charge his widowed daughter Malbai with the theft of ornaments on her leaving his home for the purpose of contracting a re-marriage, has, it is reported, given up his intention. He has given to his daughter a document to the effect that he is convinced that there was no dishonest purpose entertained in her leaving his house with ornaments that belonged to her.

THE Bombay Chronicle says:—Those taking any interest in the conduct of the municipal affairs of this city will regard will heartfelt pleasure the approaching improvement in the position and emoluments of Mr. H. W. Barrow, so long and so honourably known to the community of Bombay as the Secretary of the Town Council and Clerk of the Municipal Corporation. His valuable services to the Municipality are too well known to need any description here; and the Hon. Rao Saheb V. N. Mandlik, the Nestor of our Municipal Government, has only consulted the wishes of the ratepayers and citizens of Bombay in moving for a befitting improvement in the position and salary of this very worthy officer of the Municipality. At the meeting of the Town Council on Friday last, while considering the budget estimates for the ensuing year, the Hon. Rao Saheb Mandlik said that at their next meeting he would propose that the designation of Mr. Barrow, the Secretary of the Town Council, should be changed to that of Honorary Secretary, or, if possible, to that of the Deputy Municipal Commissioner. The Municipal Commissioner, agreeing with the Hon. Rao Saheb Mandlik, said that Mr. Barrow had been greatly assisting him in his work, and that at the time the *increase in his salary was considered his designa*tion should be changed to that of Deputy Commissioner.

IN August, 1880, Mr. Budrooddin Tyabjee, barrister-at-law, *brought to the notice of the Bombay Gov*ernment the circumstances connected with a neglected Khoja charity; and in the following month, a reference was made by Government to their solicitor, who was instructed to place himself in communication with Mr. Budrooddin and advise Government on the steps necessary to be taken in the matter. The establishment of the *charity in question is a subject of some public in*terest. Khan Mahomed Habib, a Khoja merchant, who died in Bombay in October, 1864, bequeathed by his will a sum of Rs. 2,50,000 for the establishment of a school for the benefit of boys of the Khoja community, without disunction of sect. Messrs. Rahimbhoy Habibbhoy and Ahmedbhoy Habibbhoy were appointed the executors under the will, and they and the late Peer Mahomed Cassumbhoy and Dr. Bhau Daji were named the school trustees. Two years subsequently the executors purchased a house in Shamjee Hussajee-street for the school; and two years later still a suit was filed in the High Court by the Hon'ble L. H. Bayley, then Advocate-General at Bombay, praying for a declaration that the legacy of Rs. 2,50,000 might be established, that the executors be decreed to pay into court the moneys in their hands, that an account of the estate be taken, and that Messrs. Rahimbhoy and Ahmedbhoy be removed and new trustees appointed in their place. A decree which was passed in the suit in December, 1873, established the legacy and declared that the trusts should be carried into execution under the orders of the court; that the executors should pay into court the balance of the Rs. 2 50,000, after deducting the purchase money of the house in Shamjee Hussajeestreet; and that a scheme for the management of the school should be forthwith brought before the court. In pursuance of the decree, the executors paid to the Accountant-General the balance of the trust fund, which, with accumulations of interest, amounted to Rs. 2,33,450 on the 20th September, 1880. No scheme, however, was prepared or submitted to the Advocate-General, and no further steps were taken to carry out the directions of the testator in respect of the school for a period of about seven years; and the thanks of those interested in the charity are due to Mr. Budrooddin Tyabjee for having brought the matter to the notice of Government. The result of Mr. Budrooddin's action has been that the Hon'ble Mr. Marriott, Advocate-General, has presented a petition to the High Court, which will be heard after the vacation, praying that Messrs. Budrooddin Tyabjee and Kassinath Trimbuk Telang, barristers-at-law, may be appointed trustees of the charity, in place of the deceased trustees, Peer Mahomed Cassumbhoy and Dr. Bhau Daji, and that Mr. Mahomed Ali Rogay be appointed an additional trustee.

THE Bombay Guardian is quite pungent, and not a little spiteful, over the debate in the Corporation and the ill-advised decision of the majority of one, to put over the Malabar Hill reservoir:—"The Parsees of Bombay are still, according to the new census, less than 50,000 in number; but from several points of view they are masters of the situation here. For instance, while European residents of Bombay have to go many miles out of town to bury their dead, the Parsees are allowed to plant their Towers of Silence in the finest position of Bombay, on Malabar Hill, in immediate contiguity to the residences of the elect ones of our community. Malabar Hill has lately been reached at great expense by the Vehar Lake water, casting the Gunga of Walkeshwar into the shade. The Bombay Corporation, having conferred this boon on our elevated neighbours, is asked (on the principle that one good turn deserves another) to place a roof over the tank that accommodates the Vehar water on Malabar Hill, and the plea advanced is that the mouldering remains of the unburied Parsees might be carried and dropped into this new tank. Four lakhs of rupees will be the cost of this roof. We remember reading in one of the sacred books of the Hindus that there was a Brahmin once that lived a most ungodly life, breaking all known laws of God or man, who was at length killed by a tiger. Some bird took one of his bones and flew away with it, and while flying over the Ganges let it drop. The consequence was that the poor man, who had already reached the infernal regions, was immediately sent for from heaven and escorted thither in great state. The results of something similar happening on Malabar Hill would be very different, for one of our chief physicians tells the Corporation that a little bit of organic matter, the size of a man's finger, would be sufficient to poison the whole city. Of course the four lakhs are to be voted. These Towers of Silence certainly command the town of Bombay with their silent artillery."

WE hear from Simla that the annual inspection of the volunteers took place on the 8th instant, and that the inspecting officer, Colonel Barrett, highly congratulated the commanding officer, Lieutenant-Colonel Peterson, and the corps generally, on the exceedingly satisfactory manner in which all the parade manœuvres had been accomplished. Several prizes were presented on the occasion, but the regimental prizes will be given by His Excellency the Viceroy on his return from the interior on the 22nd instant.

CHOLERIC fever is still raging at Amritsar, about two hundred deaths occurring daily from this cause alone. The inhabitants are leaving for Lahore and other neighbouring stations. The sanitary arrangements have, it is said, been greatly neglected during the last fortnight, owing to a terrible outbreak among the scavengers and conservancy darogahs. Heaps of filth have consequently accumulated in all parts of the city, which, a correspondent says, presents the appearance of hartal (a day when shops are closed).

ONE of the Deputy Sanitary Commissioners of the Punjab has been deputed to Amritsar specially to inquire into the characteristics of the present fever epidemic.

THE last issue of the Gazette of India at Simla, for this season, will take place on the 19th of November. The following issue will be published at Calcutta.

THE Pioneer thinks it is time that the remount*ing of the three Indian armies should be brought* under the direct control of Government, for the Bombay Arab and Persian market has been allowed to go to the bad.

LIEUTENANT ST. J. F. MICHELL, 16th Bengal Cavalry, who is temporarily attached to the staff of the Commander-in-Chief, during His Excel*lency's tour in Assam*, will remain in the North-Eastern Provinces for some months, collecting information for the Intelligence Department.

MR. W. R. FURNIVALL, C. E., one of the Secretaries to Government in the D. P. W. of the N. W. provinces, now at home on furlough, has been appointed Chief Engineer of the Central Bengal Railway.

A REMARKABLE increase is shown in the traffic returns of the East Indian Railway during the quarter ending September 24, and it seems likely to continue. From July 1 to September 24 the net earnings were Rs. 94,41,445, as against Rs. 75,45,512 for the corresponding period of last year. This gives an increase of nearly nineteen lakhs. The receipts are now about Rs. 650 per mile of rail. Government management is proving wonderfully successful in this instance.

ARRANGEMENTS are being made, a Calcutta paper states, to introduce a system of savings' banks in connection with post-offices. It is not intended at once to discontinue the present connection of savings' banks with treasuries, but it is thought greater facilities are likely to be offered to the public by the establishment of savings' banks under the charges of post-offices. This will lead to the transfer of patronage to the new institution, thus enabling the existing system to be gradually abolished. It is contemplated to bring the new scheme into operation from April next.

ONLY Bombay troops are to be left at Quetta. The following is the present strength of the Quetta Division:—A-4 R. A., 5 8 R. A., 15-9 R. A., and No. 1 Mountain Battery; Nos. 3 and 4 Companies of Bombay Sappers and Miners; the 13th Hussars, 7th Bengal Cavalry, 1st and 2nd Sind Horse; the 2nd Battalion Gloucestershire Regiment, the Manchester Regiment; the 3rd Bengal Native Infantry, the 4th, 8th, 9th, 13th, 15th, and 24th Bombay Native Infantry. Of these the 1st Sind Horse, 15th and 24th Bombay Infantry, are holding the Thull Chotiali and Hurnai route.

A QUETTA telegram to the Pioneer, dated 13th October, says:—Sirdar Mahomed Yusuf Khan, with his four regiments, has crossed the Helmund, but it is said his troops refuse to go any further without the Amir. On the other hand, it is reported from Kandahar that the Amir has received information that Sirdar Abdul Kudus Khan, assisted by the Ghar Aimak Hazaras, has twice defeated Ayoub's forces at Herat. In the first engagement Sirdar Abdul Salam, Ayoub's father-in-law, with thirty sowars, was taken prisoner; and in the second the Luinaib, with three regiments, was driven back to Herat, with the loss of two guns, and is now said to be negotiating for peace. On hearing of these reverses Ayoub, who was a bankrupt in resources, is reported to have decided to have crossed the Persian frontier to Ghayn, having meanwhile put General Hafizullah Khan to death in revenge for his defeat at Kandahar. These reports have a suspicious appearance, and should be received with caution. News of this kind from Herat has generally proved untrustworthy: e. g., compare the reports about Ayoub which were current in Kandahar last spring. Similarly a current rumour, that Mahomed Ishak Khan is advancing on Herat from Turkistan vid Maimenah, requires confirmation.

Native Opinion publishes a letter from a correspondent, apropos of the recent honour conferred on Sir George Birdwood, in which the following extract from a private note by that distinguished Anglo-Indian is given:—"I think nothing of my services in the worldly sense of the word, and I accept the idea of being a literary man and my passing reputation as an art critic. My work in life, here and in India, has been to promote goodwill between natives and Englishmen; and if you have followed my casual contributions to the press and my larger labours in my hand-books on Indian art, you will not have failed to observe that I have had no literary aim in them, no desire to set up myself as an authority on art; but that I have ever been actuated by the desire—quite anti-literary in the unpractical—to make the opportunities for writing afforded me, chiefly to interest the hearts and reason of English people in the patient people of India."

THE New Dispensation announces that next cold weather the Oxford Mission will strengthen itself and extend its operations. A Sisterhood is talked of. Three Sisters are immediately expected. Father Rivington is likely to come in January next. He will be preceded by that most zealous and self-denying co-worker, Pundit Nehemiah Nilkant Goreh. The book depôt attached to the mission is worth a visit.

MILITARY ITEMS.

THE 2nd Battalion Royal Warwickshire Regiment (late 2-6th) commences its march from Cawnpore to Calcutta on the 1st proximo.

LIEUTENANT-COLONEL A. H. DAVIDSON, R. A., attached to the Allahabad Division, has been appointed President of the Upper Circle Casting Committee, which assembles annually.

THE 13th Hussars are under orders to leave Quetta at an early date for Muttra, and will probably commence their march down country about the 25th instant.

THE 16th B. C. will commence its march towards Jhelum on the 1st proximo, the squadron from Lucknow joining the head quarters at Rawalpindi on the 6th idem. Major Becher has rejoined the regiment.

MAJOR W. R. BUNBURY, of the Commissariat Department, will, on return from furlough, at the end of the month, proceed to Calcutta for duty, and not take over Commissariat charge at Allahabad, as was expected.

A DETACHMENT of 1 subadar and 20 sepoys of the 28th P. N I. arrived at Allahabad from Peshawar on Thursday morning in advance of the regiment, in order to take over charge of Lines, &c., from the 35th N. I. on their departure.

GENERAL HUME is expected to take over command of the Lahore Division early in November, when General Cobbe will once more rejoin his permanent appointment at Jubbulpore, as Brigadier-General Commanding the Saugor District.

AT a District Court-martial held on the 11th inst. Private John Dunncliff, Cheshire Regiment, was sentenced to 730 days' imprisonment with hard labour, his offence being insubordination accompanied with personal violence.

ON the departure of the 35th N. I. there will practically be no native infantry in the station (Allahabad) until the end of the month, when the 28th P. N. I. is expected to arrive. On Monday next the whole of the Guards in the station and Fort will be taken over by the 2nd Battalion Cheshire Regiment.

THE 2nd Battalion Cheshire Regiment will move into the Rest Camp on the 10th November, and will leave Allahabad for Lucknow on the 14th and 15th idem. The 2nd Battalion North Lancashire (late 81st) Regiment will arrive on the same dates, and march direct to barracks except the detachments for the Fort and Cantonment.—Pioneer.

THE following transfers amongst the Deputy Assistants of the Quarter-Master-General's Department are about to take place:—Captain A. J. Pearson, R. A., from Lucknow to Bareilly; Captain C. J. Fulford, B. S. C., from Bareilly to Mhow, vice Captain A. Barrow, B. S. C. Captain Barrow is about to proceed to England to join the Staff College, into which he passed at the last examination.—Pioneer.

THE Battery 11-9th Royal Artillery, which was on the march of Sir Frederick Roberts's army on its memorable march from Kabul to Kandahar, moved out of their quarters at Jutogh under command of Major Deshon, into camp for a few days to the Hill, well known in Simla as the Vara Danee; an embryo site in contemplation for future extension of accommodation for troops on the Himalayas.

COLONEL C. J. GODBY, B. S. C., Commandant, 4th Punjab Cavalry, has obtained furlough for 1 year and 243 days, from the 6th of next month, and is not likely to return to this country, as he will have succeeded to his Colonel's allowances (June 1883) before his leave expires. Colonel Godby officiated as Commandant of the Punjab Frontier Force from December, 1878, after General Roberts had proceeded to take Command of the Kurrum Field Force, until September, 1880, when Colonel T. G. Kennedy, C. B., was appointed Commandant, with the rank of Brigadier-General.—Pioneer.

GOD SAVE THE QUEEN.

PRINCE'S DOCK.—The s.s. Clan Ranald entered, and the Clan Macleod left, the dock on Saturday.

A RAJA'S MEDICAL ADVISER.—Dr. Sorabjee Cowasjee, L. M. and S., has been appointed medical adviser to the Raja of Jamkhundie.

OBITUARY.—Nowrojee Shapurjee Sanjana, brother of Dustoor Pesootunjee Byramjee Sanjana, died on Saturday last, at the age of 48 years. The funeral procession, yesterday morning, was attended by a very large number of Parsees, laymen and priests.

A DISHONEST SERVANT.—Antone Gairer, alias Antone Fernandes, a domestic servant recently in the employ of Dr. Nolan, was on Saturday last convicted by Mr. P. Ryan of stealing a silver wristlet and a portion of a silver vase, of the aggregate value of Rs. 20, the property of Dr. Nolan. He was sentenced to six weeks' rigorous imprisonment.

ASSAULT.—Ramlal Mahadoo and four other Hindus were on Saturday last convicted by Mr. P. Ryan of assaulting Shaik Mahomed Jaffer, an engine-driver in the employ of the Jadowjee Raghoojee Spinning and Weaving Company, on the evening previous. The defendants were fined Rs. 10, or in default to undergo two weeks' rigorous imprisonment.

NATIVE CHRISTIANS.—The native Christians of the different Protestant churches in Bombay hold once every quarter a tea-meeting, followed by addresses, songs, &c. At their last meeting the principal topic of discourse was the loss sustained by the decease of the Rev. Vishnoo Bhaskar; and it was decided to institute some memorial of him. Rs. 175 was subscribed on the spot.—Bombay Guardian.

AN OLD OFFENDER.—Antone DeSouza was on Saturday last convicted by Mr. P. Ryan of housebreaking and theft of sundry articles, consisting of a black bag, cigar-case, brandy-flask, purse, &c., of the collective value of Rs. 73, the property of Mr. Mannering. Being an old offender, he was sentenced to eighteen months' rigorous imprisonment. The prisoner was further convicted by the magistrate of stealing a pakkee clock, valued at Rs. 40, from the residence of Mr. Thorburn, at Malabar Hill, on the night of the 7th inst. He was sentenced to a further term of one year's rigorous imprisonment, to take effect on the expiration of the first sentence.

POSTAL ROBERY.—Mr. D. M. Lalcaca has again discovered a crime committed in the Postal Department, in the Dharwar Collectorate, and the culprit has been punished with five years' rigorous imprisonment. It appears that an insured bangy parcel, containing a gold necklace of the declared value of Rs. 450, was in a clever and ingenious manner abstracted on the 15th July last from the sealed mail bag while in transit from Hubli to Bellary. The mail bag was broken open by a postman at Mandargi in the Dharwar Collectorate, and the contents removed while the bag was in transit near the Bellary district. The thief, a Mahomedan, named Hyder Hussein Saheb, was traced and detected by the persevering exertions of the Superintendent of Post-offices, Mr. D. M. Lalcaca, aided by the local police. The stolen property was recovered in a cocoanut garden at Sirsi, belonging to one Gurbasappa Nilligar. The accused was tried before the Magistrate of the district and committed to the Sessions. Mr. E. T. Candy, Sessions Judge, after a protracted trial, found the offender guilty, and sentenced him to five years' imprisonment.

FATAL ACCIDENT ON THE B. B. & C. I. RAILWAY.—A coroner's inquest was held on Saturday last at the J. J. Hospital, on the body of Merwanjee Fakeerjee, aged eighteen years, an engine-cleaner in the employ of the B. B. and C. I. Railway attached to the engine running shed of the company at Parell. Deceased was on duty on the previous night at that shed. At about 1-30 a.m., while seated on the rails cleaning some waste cotton, he was unfortunately caught between the buffer and the hind wheel of engine No. 25 and one of the rails while the engine was being moved slowly by Gungoo Luximon, an assistant shedman in the B. B. & C. I. Railway at Parell, from the line leading to the running shed to the traffic siding at Parell. Deceased, after the occurrence, was conscious, and said he was not much hurt; however, he was removed to the J. J. Hospital at 4 o'clock in the morning, where he died from the effects of the injuries he had sustained. The verdict was "that the death of Merwanjee Fakeerjee was caused by injuries received by him on the head and body, caused by *his having been accidentally jammed be*tween the brake block of a tender attached to an engine and a rail."

MUSIC HATH CHARMS, &c.—At the Small Causes Court, a few days ago, a rather interesting case was heard before Mr. Spencer, in which Limjee Pestonjee, a disreputable Parsee by his own admission, sued one Pestonjee Dhunjeebhoy to recover Rs. 100 on a promissory note payable on demand. Mr. Baboorao appeared for the plaintiff; and Mr. Edulje Mussanee for the defendant. The defendant's advocate, while admitting execution of the note by his client, pleaded want of consideration under somewhat peculiar circumstances. He said that his client was arrested one day by the plaintiff into a house in Hunuman-lane, on the representation that a singing houri from Hyderabad had temporarily put up there. The defendant, with natural susceptibilities to poetry and natural reluctance he might have had to enter a strange house in that locality; and arrangements were made with his consent for a majra, or singing with the accompaniment of dancing. Whilst the defendant felt the delicious strains of harmony steal over his soul, he at the same time felt the hands of three or four persons grasp him in a rather unpleasant embrace. The plaintiff imposed only one simple condition for his release from that situation; and the defendant had no alternative but to sign the note sued upon. The writing of the note was extremely shaky; and the plaintiff, when in the witness-box, had impudence enough to admit that his acquaintance with the defendant began at a prostitute's house in Gaumdevi. Mr. Brewin, superintendent of police, was called to show that the plaintiff was a needy man and consequently indebted to him for Rs. 1,000. The plaintiff himself confessed having been several times fined for gambling and having once eloped with a Parsee girl named Dinbai; and that he lived with his mistress in a low house in Hunuman lane. His Honour was about to give a verdict for the defendant, when the plaintiff elected a nonsuit. The court awarded the defendant Rs. 30 for costs, remarking that the claim made against him was of the flimsiest character, and expressing a shrewd guess that it was not the charms of music alone that had taken him to the house of ill-fame. There could be no doubt that he was entrapped by the plaintiff, and the note obtained from him by extortion and intimidation.

THE C. D. ACT HELD IN TERROREM.

AT the Girgaum Police Court, on Thursday last, before Mr. Ryan, Hurrichund Bhasker, a clerk in the Pension Pay Office, was charged, at the instance of Gunga, a widow, with the theft of a neck-ornament, and the value of about seven rupees, from the person of her child. Mr. Sorabjee, pleader, appeared for the accused.

Gunga said.—I am a widow and live in Tapidas Wady, Girgaum. I occupy a room in a chawl, female lives on the premises. I was living until yesterday in a Bhundaree woman's house opposite Jaffer Sulleman's stables. The accused used to visit the Bhundaree woman. She occupied a room adjoining mine. On Sunday, the 9th inst., the accused came to see the Bhundaree woman. I had gone out to grind corn in the morning, and returned at 10 a.m., when I saw the accused in the Bhundaree woman's room. I took my meals and went out again at 1 p.m., leaving my child asleep in the Bhundaree woman's room. The neck-ornament before the court was on my child's neck when I left. The accused was in the verandah. I returned at 2 p. m. The accused had then left. My child was playing in the verandah, but the neck-ornament was not on the child. I made inquiry about it, and at about 3 p.m. I reported to the police the loss of the ornament.

At this stage the case had to be adjourned until the following day, Friday. Meantime it appears that the complainant, who shewed some reluctance to prosecute the charge, was taken in hand by order of Mr. Page, the superintendent of the division in which the theft occurred. While there she was interrogated as to her means of livelihood and her mode of living. She affirmed that she earned an honest livelihood by grinding corn, and though she admitted that she was occasionally visited by a casteman, who made for her purchases of corn and other necessaries of life, and sometimes took his meals in her room, she denied positively the existence of any improper intimacy between her and him. The police are then alleged to have intimated to her that, unless she prosecuted the charge of theft, they would make her take out a ticket under the C. D. Act.

The case of theft was called on again before the magistrate on Friday last, when the complainant was cross-examined by Mr. Sorabjee on behalf of the accused. She was asked if she was not in the keeping of the casteman who took his meals with and made purchases for her, when she gave a positive denial; and feeling indignant, described to the magistrate what had taken place on the preceding day at her interview with Mr. Page, as above stated. She said distinctly that the police held out a threat to her that, unless she prosecuted the charge of theft, they would make her take out a ticket under the C. D. Act. Mr. Page, who was present in court, denied her statement, which was not corroborated by any other person. As she declined to lead evidence as to the charge of theft, the accused was discharged.

BOMBAY TOWN COUNCIL.

At the meeting of the Council on Friday afternoon there were present: Dr. Cook (chairman), Captain Morland, Dr. Pinkerton, Hon'ble Rao Saheb V. N. Mandlik, Mr. Dosabhoy Framjee, Mr. Rugonath N. Khote, Mr. Nanabhoy Byramjee Jeejeebhoy, and Mr. Muncherjee N. Banajee.

A memoradum was considered, dated 5th instant, from the Municipal Commissioner, forwarding letter dated 30th ultimo, from the Educational Inspector, Central Division, enclosing Presidency Local Fund account for the year 1880-81, together with a list of Bombay Local Fund schools, showing the number of pupils on rolls in each school at the end of the year. The Commissioner stated that this information will be embodied in the next annual report.

THE ANJUMAN-I-ISLAM.

A memorial was presented from the Anjuman-i-Islam of Bombay, requesting that one-third of the *Municipal grant for primary education may be ap*plied in aid of Mahomedan schools; or that, if necessary, a special grant of Municipal money may be made in aid of such schools.

The memorial was as follows:—1. That your memorialits, who are an association consisting of the principal Mahomedan gentlemen of Bombay, have for a considerable

Orders were issued for the arrest of the offending Mahomedans, 33 of whom were immediately taken into custody and tried and punished according to their guilt. The temples that were injured were subsequently repaired by His Highness at the expense of the State, and the Hindoos who were the authors of the disturbance were tried by a council consisting of 2 Hindu and 2 Mahomedan members. Simultaneously with the disturbances at Bahawalpore a quarrel arose between the Mahant of Pahladpuri and the Majawar of Rukni-i-Alim at Mooltan. The point in dispute was the erection of a spire by the Hindus. It may here be mentioned that immediately after the fall of the Mooltan fort in 1849 an order was issued to the effect that all religious buildings be restored to the state in which they were previous to the annexation of the province, and that no new buildings should be erected on the spot without Government permission. The shrine of Rukni-i-Alim and the Hindu temple of Pahladpore are side by side, and there is just beyond them a plot of ground and a well common to both. Petty disputes about the common well have frequently arisen, but never assumed a formidable shape. The Hindu Raises, taking advantage of the change of Deputy Commissioners, applied for, and obtained, the permission of the Municipality to erect a spire to their temple. The spire was at once commenced, and in a short time it reached a height which threatened to overtop the Mahomedan shrine. The Mahomedans were then roused and appealed to Government. An enquiry was ordered. Major Lang, who was Deputy Commissioner, reported the facts of the case, and suggested that as the spire had gone so far, the Hindus should be allowed to complete it to a height of 33 feet instead of 42 feet, as originally intended, provided that it displayed no pictures offensive to the Mahomedans and had no windows overlooking the private quarters of the shrine. This concession was made to the Hindus on the condition that they should renounce their claim to the common well and receive instead another piece of land from Government for sinking a well themselves. The Mahant at first was agreeable to this proposal, but he was overruled by his more turbulent followers at the last moment. The Lieutenant-Governor, on the matter being brought before him, at first ordered the spire to be removed and the temple restored to its former state, but on the strong recommendation of the local authorities he agreed to adopt the suggestion of Major Lang. Orders were issued accordingly, and a piece of land larger than the old one was given to the Hindus immediately adjoining their temple, and August 1st was fixed as the date by which the well should be sunk and the spire completed. This proposal having failed to satisfy the Hindus, they submitted a memorial to the Lieutenant-Governor, setting forth their grievances. The Lieutenant-Governor, of course, confirmed the decision of the local officers, but permitted the Hindus to open shops for the sale of Jhatka. Not content with all these concessions, the Hindus have memorialised His Excellency the Viceroy on the subject, but the matter has not yet been decided by the Indian Government.

Great excitement among the Mahomedan community of Lahore in the beginning of May, by the publication of a nasty pamphlet entitled the Jawab-i-katha salot. This little pamphlet purported to have been written in reply to another work called the Katha Salot, published at Delhi by one Sheikh Salim, originally a Hindu, some twenty-five years ago. The book commenced with a volley of abuse against Sheikh Salim, who was styled a bidin or infidel, and the author, instead of vindicating Hinduism from the attacks of Sheikh Salim, indulged in abuse of the Mahomedan religion in language calculated to rouse feelings of the bitterest resentment, if not of actual hostility. The Mahomedans in Lahore at the time thought, and with good reason, that the object of the Hindus in publishing the pamphlet in question was none other than to mark their sympathy with their co-religionists at Bahawalpore, Mooltan, and Moradabad. The Mahomedans no doubt behaved with great moderation and were about to raise subscriptions for commencing legal proceedings against the author and publisher of the pamphlet, when (thanks to the judgment of Maulvi Mahomed Hossain, Pandit Gopi Nath, and Mahomed Barkat Ali Khan) measures were taken to decide the matter amicably. Accordingly a meeting of Maulvis and Pundits was held at Raja Dhian Sing's Haveli on the 25th of May, at the suggestion of Maulvi Mahomed Hossain and Pundit Gopi Nath, for the purpose of enabling the two parties to arrive at an amicable understanding on the subject of the Jawabi Katha salot. A speech was delivered by Pundit Gopi Nath in Hindi, pointing out to the Hindus the risks they were going to run by assuming an attitude of hostility towards the Mahomedans, and suggested that it were their interest to live on cordial terms with the latter and to restore the harmony which had all along existed beween the parties. This speech was followed by another from Maulvi Mahomed Hossain, who told his audience that theology had formed the subject of his study for the last 20 years, and that he was aware of no authority in the Koran or Hadises which could justify any attack on Hinduism. On the contrary, he said, there were distinct injunctions on this subject which required his co-religionists to refrain from reviling a Jew, a Christian, or even an atheist, lest they should provoke the unbelievers to ridicule and abuse the most cherished objects of their own faith. This speech produced considerable effect on the minds of his audience, and it was then proposed that a mixed committee should be appointed for the purpose of preparing a list of works written in obscene language, and mark such passages in them as should appear to them objectionable, and ask their authors to withdraw them, and in case of their refusal to do so, Government be asked to take such measures as should have a deterrent effect on the recalcitrant authors. Another meeting was held in the Padshahi mosque by Mahomed Barkat Ali Khan, at which he informed the Mahomedans that there was no necessity whatever for their taking legal proceedings against the author and publishers of the Jawab-i-Katha Salot, as the Hindus had, at his suggestion, undertaken to hold a meeting for the purpose of convincing their co-religionists of the importance of living on friendly terms with the Mahomedans and giving such satisfaction to the Mahomedans as the nature of the case might demand. A third meeting was held on the same evening by the leading Hindus of the city, at which the remaining copies of the Jawab-i-Katha Salot were destroyed in the presence of the printer and the book-sellers, who were warned to give no further cause for excitement by publishing works of the sort which were then being destroyed. The effect of the above meetings was that the excitement which threatened a breach of peace considerably subsided, and all serious consequences were averted.

Disturbances similar to that of Lahore also arose at Jhang, about four months ago ; but happily the breach was not made so wide as at Mooltan and other places, and the matter was decided by private arbitration.—Civil and Military Gazette.

THE SIMLA JEWEL CASE.

SIMLA, Oct. 10.

On the sitting of the court to-day, the evidence of Mrs. Tuther, taken by the commission at Kasauli, was first read. It was to the following effect :—Mr. D. Colyear died in September or October, 1879. I was appointed executrix. I remember the sword belonging to Mr. Colyear. He sold it to Mr. Jacob at Simla in September, 1878, for Rs. 1,900, and, I believe, Rs. 100 commission. Mr. Jacob said the gentleman who wanted the sword would only give Rs. 2,000 for it, of which Rs. 100 was to be his commission. I do not know whether any receipt was given ; but some days after Mr. Colyear told me he had received the money, and bought shares for William Colyear with the money. Mr. David Colyear offered me the refusal of the talwar for Rs. 2,000. On his death, many of his papers were missing ; I found none relating to the talwar amongst them. He was ill for more than a year before he died. My nephew, to whom the sword actually belonged, knows the facts of the case. I was not present when the sword was sold ; and I do not know when the sale took place. The late Mr. Colyear valued the talwar very highly, and told me it had originally cost Rs. 12,000 ; but many of the stones had been taken out before he sold it. I have had conversation with General Hamilton about the case ; he had heard that I could give information on the subject of the talwar, and I told him what I knew.

William Colyear was then sworn. He deposed as follows :—I am the son of Mr. David Colyear. My father died in September, 1879. I remember well the sword and jewelled scabbard. It belonged to me. It originally belonged to my grandfather, who left it, by will, to me. It was sold through Mr. Jacob to a third party some time in 1878. The price realized was Rs. 2,000 less Rs. 100 commission. (Mr. D. Colyear received the Rs. 1,900, and a receipt was given. (Mr. Spitta here called on the defendant to produce the receipt, and a long discussion ensued, Mr. Rattigan promising to produce it during the examination of Mr. Jacob.) I know the receipt was given, because I generally carried on my father's correspondence, and was informed by my father of anything that transpired in my absence. I cannot recollect whether I or my father wrote the receipt. If it is shown to me, I can identify the hand-writing. I know only Rs. 1,900 was given, because my father wanted to buy me four Simla Bank shares, and Mr. Jacob was written to, to try and get Rs. 2,000 clear for the sword, but Mr. Jacob said the purchaser would not give more. My father told me this. I saw the money, Rs. 1,900, paid to my father. I think my servant, who took the sword to Mr. Jacob, brought back the money. Three bank shares at Rs. 500 each were actually bought out of the proceeds of the sale. (The discussion regarding the production of the receipt again commenced, and it was decided that it should be produced after the cross-examination had been concluded.)

Cross-examined by Mr. Rattigan.—I have come from Mussoorie, arriving here on the evening of the 8th. I am studying there at Mr. Wood's School. I was 17 years old when my father died in September, 1879. I was in school as a day scholar when my father died, returning home at 5 in the evening and going at about 9 in the morning. I do not remember in what month the sword was sold.

Q.—Was it in August ?

A.—I do not remember.

Q.—Was it in July ?

A.—I have told you I do not remember.

Q.—Was it in September—I shall go through the whole calendar ?

A.—You may ; I shall not answer.

Mr. Rattigan, addressing the court.—I intend to comment strongly on the manner of this witness, and I beg to draw the court's attention to it.

Q.—Was it October ?

A.—I decline to answer.

Q.—Was it November ?

A.—I do not remember.

Q.—Was it December ?

A.—I do not remember.

The money came in the day time ; about 12 o'clock I suppose. I suppose it was 12 o'clock because 12 o'clock is generally considered the day time. I do not remember whether any one besides my servant came with the money. It was brought to my father's house. Mrs. Tuther was not there then. I was at home at 12 o'clock, because it must have been a holiday, or half-holiday. I do not remember the terms of the receipt, but it was for Rs. 1,900. I am positive of this. It was written either by me or my father. (Receipt produced.) I admit it is for Rs. 2,000, and is in Mr. Jacob's writing. The signature is my father's. My former statements seem to be wrong.

Mr. Rattigan here sat down, saying it was absolutely useless to cross-examine the witness any further

Re-examined.—My father was not in debt to Mr. Jacob at the time this receipt was granted. Mrs. Tuther is my aunt. She had seen the sword. He consulted her about the disposal of the sword.

By the Court.—The sword had been taken to Mr. Jacob before the day of the sale. I do not remember whether it had ever been left in his possession. I think my servant brought a letter with the money—at the time I did not know who was the actual purchaser—I only knew it was sold through Mr. Jacob. I am sure it was sold through him, because he charged Rs. 100 as commission. I will swear positively that my father only received Rs. 1,900 for it. The three shares were bought in my name some time after the sale of the sword, but I cannot distinctly recollect how long. The money was sent in notes and cash. I saw a letter from Mr. Jacob saying that the purchaser would not give more than Rs. 2,000, and that he wanted Rs. 100 as commission. I never tried to find out who actually bought the sword.

By Mr. Rattigan.—The letter might have come two or three months before the sale was completed. I do not remember when it came. I have searched for the letter. I searched for it at Kalka, where I had left a lot of my papers. The letter was not there. The shares purchased with the money realized were sold a few months ago. General Hamilton only communicated with me by telegram. I knew why I was called. I was asked in a letter by Mrs. Tuther whether I could prove what I had written in a letter, and I said I could. This was less than a month ago, —about a week ago.

Bhola Nath deposed to having gone with Mr. Colyear's servant to Mr. Colyear's house with the money for the talwar, and to having taken a receipt in Mr. Jacob's hand-writing which Mr. Colyear signed.

Cross-examined.—I was not Mr. Jacob's servant at the time. I got nothing by the transaction. The money was in my hands. I do not remember the date.

Amir Hassan of Delhi deposed.—I am a broker of jewels. I recognize General Hamilton. I have had transactions with him at Delhi. He bought an emerald and sapphire from me at Delhi. He left a talwar in my hands for sale on commission. I tried to get Rs. 10,000 for it, but could not. He also gave me an emerald with a hole through it, to cut. I had it cut in two pieces. General Hamilton told me to give the pieces to Mr. Jacob. Mr. Jacob was not then in Delhi. I did not know why I was called to Simla, and have not spoken to Mr. Jacob in the case.

Cross-examined.—I have known Mr. Jacob four years, and have acted as dalal for him. I never heard that Mr. Jacob said I was not to be trusted. I had, of course, to return the talwar to General Hamilton, when I could not sell it. It had been with me eight or nine months. (Emeralds produced.) I consider they have been well cut.

Long discussion as to whether witness should be allowed to given an opinion on the value of the emeralds ; the court deciding that he should be allowed, if he were an expert. This point being decided in the negative, the question was not allowed.

By the Court.—I never met Mrs. Tytler, General Hamilton, and Mr. Jacob, all three together, either at the railway station, or anywhere else. I can swear to this. I never met Mr. Jacob at the railway station. Mr. Jacob invariably comes to my shop at Delhi every year, and buys something. I have not yet been paid for cutting the emerald. Mr. Jacob did not complain to me of the way in which it had been cut.

Mr. Jacob sworn.—I am the defendant in this action. I am a Syrian. I understand English, but not grammatically. I first came to Simla in 1871. I first became acquainted with Mrs. Tytler in July 1877. I was introduced to her by Mr. John Day, at Laurie's hotel. She came to see my room. She subsequently bowed to me, and I afterwards called on her. I took lessons in painting for four months from Mrs. Tytler. I had not then had any jewel transaction with her. After a short time she used to talk about business matters with me. In 1878 she made the first jewel purchases from me. She used to write, saying she was expecting money from England, £5,000 or £10,000. (Letter produce and read.)

By the reference in that letter to the purchase of jewels cheaply, I alluded to the fact that a firm had failed in Delhi, and the jewels were to be auctioned, and it was to buy some of these things that she expected the money from England. Letter dated 14th December, 1877, from Mrs. Tytler, read, in which she expressed her pleasure that he was not going to Kabul, and the hope that he would return from Turkey a great man. These observations referred to the fact that before the war broke out with Afghanistan, the Government wanted to send me to Kabul, as attaché. I said I would not go to Constantinople, but offered to go to Turkey. I have a letter from the Foreign Office. The jewels referred to in the letter are those which I was to have bought at the auction, and I was to give a list to guide Mrs. Tytler's son-in-law as to the prices he should ask in the English market. Mrs. Tytler did not get the money she expected, and the transaction did not come off that year. My first transaction with Mrs. Tytler was early in 1878. She bought two thousand rupees' worth of rings. She sent them home. After this, prior to meeting General Hamilton, we had no further transactions. About October 1878 I got four rings and sent them up to her for inspection. I went next day to see whether she would buy them ; she said she had no money then, but if I would keep them a few days she would buy them. While we were talking, a servant came and told Mrs. Tytler that the General Sahib had come. She said "Bother the General." She went to see him, and a few minutes after came and said it was one of her old friends, General Hamilton, who wished to see the rings, if I had no objection. Soon she came back again, and asked if I would like to see the General. I said I should, and was taken into the sitting-room, where I was introduced to him. After a time, conversation turned upon sending things home ; and General Hamilton said he had a few thousand rupees which he wanted to send home. He asked if I would sell him the rings if Mrs. Tytler did not want them. I said I should be very glad to do so. I never used the words "I never saw such people as you English, &c." I swear this—if I were to be hanged I would say the same. A day or two after, General Hamilton came to Laurie's hotel, and I showed him these four rings as well as others in a box. He bought these four rings and one or two others. I told him my price. He paid no money then. He left the rings with me. A few days after, he came and selected some more. He paid me Rs. 300, due by Mrs. Tytler on account of a ruby cluster ring, and also the money for the other rings. He took away six rings for himself and one for Mrs. Tytler. The day after Mrs. Tytler came and asked me if I would pack the rings for her to send to her son-in-law. She also asked me if I would value the rings for the direction of her son-in-law. I said I would value nothing for anybody. She then said General Hamilton had made her his partner, and I should value them as I had agreed to do. I then put the heading to the list to show that I was valuing for her and not for General Hamilton. The object of the valuation was to guide Captain Thompson as to what he should ask. I made an average on the prices given in Mr. Streeter's and Emanuels' books. I have never been to England, and I have near sent home things. Mr. Oliver first bought Rs. 5,000 worth from me, and then Rs. 8,000. He told me he had made a profit. Major Borrodale also purchased from me and made a profit. He gave me those books. I honestly believed the valuation I gave Mrs. Tytler was correct. I followed the books. A few days after the last transaction, General Hamilton again came to me and bought a few rings. Nothing was said about the value of these rings. but he asked for my books and kept them a week. The first valuation was made for Mrs. Tytler only, and I valued nothing else whatever except the turquoises. After taking away the books, General Hamilton came again and bought the turquoises. I said the turquoises have arrived, you can open the parcel and look at them. In the meantime Mrs. Tytler came in. The parcel came from Mr. Aire. He had been in the hotel, and as he was going to the front, offered to send me some turquoises. He was in the transport, I think looking after mules, or bullocks, or something. The letter I received was on the table open, Mrs. Tytler read it out and handed it to General Hamilton, who took it away with him. I took a note of the address. Mr. Aire wanted Rs. 4 each for the turquoises, plus Rs. 50 for himself. They were not his own. General Hamilton said he would take them at that price. There were 24 of them. General Hamilton paid me Rs. 2,450. The difference was Rs. 64 for a second-hand gold bracelet. Mrs. Tytler wanted a veil, but he refused to give them. He did not take them away for three days. During this time Mr. Batten saw them and offered Rs. 150 for one of the large ones. I told General Hamilton of the offer, and he said, he would not take it, as Lord Lytton had paid £20 for one. At that time he asked me what I thought they would be worth in London, and, I said, according to Mr. Emanual, they ought to fetch £2 each all round. This was less than the price stated in Emanual's book. This is the value they would have fetched if they had reached England as they were. Turquoises are liable to change colour, and the sea air spoiled them. They are not now the same colour that they were. I did not make a pice on this transaction. General Hamilton paid me for them and took them away. I value the sword for General Hamilton with reference to the gems and gold and silver it contained, but nothing else. I bought the sword from Bhagat Ram. I asked him to bring it for me to look at. He brought it, and I offered Rs. 1,600. He said Pattiala had offered Rs. 5,000 for it. He said at that time Mr. Colyear would not part with it, but now he would take Rs. 3,000. I told him to make my offer—meantime I had spoken to Mrs. Tytler about it. When the man came back and said his master refused my offer, Mrs. Tytler was in my room. I then offered Rs. 1,800 verbally. The man came back and said the least he would take was Rs. 2,000. I said I did not want it. No more was said about it till the plaintiff came. I did not buy it myself, because I was not going to the plains for three months, and my money would have been lying idle, as I could not sell it in Simla. In the meantime, Mrs. Tytler had spoken of it to General Hamilton. I was very angry with her for telling him, as I feared he might outbid me for it, so I sent Bhagat Ram to get the sword for Rs. 2,000. He then brought the sword. I did not like to give the money into his hand, so sent for Bhola Nath, who had brought Bhagat Ram to me. The servant came back saying he could not find him, so I went myself. I then gave him Rs. 2,000, all in notes, and I drew out that receipt (the one in court) and told him to get Mr. Colyear to make a copy and stamp and receipt it. I did this that there might be no mistake what the receipt was for. Bhola Nath brought back the receipt signed—the identical receipt which I had given as a copy. Next morning General Hamilton came to me, and said Mrs. Tytler had told him that there was a sword for sale, belonging to Mr. Colyear. I did not tell him that I had bought it ; but said I had it, and that the price was Rs. 3,000. He bought it. Next day he came and asked me to weigh the metal on it. I tried to pull it off, but it would not come, so I broke the wooden scabbard to get off the metal. It came to 134 tolas of silver, and I put down 14 or 15 tolas of pure gold, in which the stones were set. He then asked me to value the stones. The whole came to about Rs. 7,200. He requested me to have a new wooden scabbard made. I then found that one emerald was missing, and he said I might well get it put in. I had it done at a cost of Rs. 20, which is the sum which General Hamilton was to pay. I said I gave to some one else. I simply valued the sword in Indian money according to the value of the jewels. General Hamilton took the sword down country. I saw him again in January, 1879, when I was going to Rampore. The sword was with Amir Hassam and General Hamilton gave me a letter to him to get it. I went to Rampore, and the Raja offered Rs. 5,000 for the sword. I communicated the offer to General Hamilton, who said he would take it to England, if he could not get Rs. 10,000 for it. (Letter read.) I returned from Rampore, and brought the sword, everything else back with me. Afterwards the Foreign Office offered Rs. 4,000 for the sword. I communicated the offer to General Hamilton, and he wrote to me to sell if for any price. Meantime the Foreign Secretary wrote saying the sword was not wanted then. I again went to Rampore, in March or April, and then the sword was sold for Rs. 6,000, but on the next day, owing to a dispute with the Nawab about another article, the sword and everything else were returned.

The Court then rose, the case being adjourned till the following day.—Pioneer.

TESTIMONIALS.

RHEUMATISM, &c.—"HENRY'S THILUM" has been used in my own family, and its use recommended by me to others. As an emollient, anodyne and detergent application, it is no of SURPASSING VIRTUE. In Rheumatic affections its efficacy, when well rubbed in, cannot be questioned, while its fragrance effectually meets one of the greatest objections to unguents in general.

Surgeon General (Madras Retired.)

Burmore, Bridge of Allan, 23rd June, 1881.

RINGWORM.—For the last twelve months I had been suffering from Ringworm about my neck, which did not yield to any of the various remedies I used. Having got a box of "HENRY'S THILUM" from you, I made no hesitation in trying it. Six or seven applications of the ointment in two days completely cured me of the disease. I am much delighted to communicate to you this result of my trial of your "THILUM" with a view to your recommending it as a SPECIFIC FOR RINGWORM.
